

Wow postcards

We would like your help in celebrating your child's achievements. At school we record the steps of your child's developmental journey in their personal 'Memory Books'.

You can help us by.....

- Letting us know if your child does or says something new. Try not to engineer situations, just share new achievements. These don't have to be amazing feats, for example sharing with a sibling or sleeping in their own bed all night!
Or
- If you go somewhere or do something at the weekend, encourage your child to talk about their experience, and help them to record it in their own way. This might be by taking a photograph, drawing a picture, writing about it, making something, painting or even making up a song....

It helps us to further your child's learning if we can link their successes at home and their interests. We look forward to these contributions.
